Wind, Rain Hit Florida; Most Of Nation Sunny

United Press International
Strong winds and heavy rain pounded north and central Florida but otherwise February bowed out like a lamb Saturday.

Sunny skies and unseasonably warm temperatures were the story throughout most of the nation.

THE MERCURY climbed 30 degrees within 24 hours in many points of the upper Mississippi Valley and warm breezes continued their assault on what was left of the Midwest's snow. The thermometer hit 54 degrees in Chicago, four degrees short of the record for the date set in 1896. Other Midwest readings included 61 in Indianapolis, 63 in Detroit and 65 in St. Louis.

BLUSTERY WINDS and rain hit north and central Florida Friday but a tornado alert ended with nothing worse than some water spouts.

The forecast for Saturday called for cloudy to partly cloudy skies with a few showers. Temperatures were expected to range from the low 60s in the north to the high 80s across the southern half of Florida.

A belt stretching from Northeastern Minnesota into northern Michigan escaped the balmy air and got one to two inches of snow.

KHRUSHCHEV TO 'VISIT' IN GERMANY

LENINGRAD, (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev will fly to East Germany as soon as he winds up his apparently stalemated talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan next week, it was announced today.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced Khrushchev's plans while Macmillan, just arrived here on a tour of Russia's provinces, was calling for East-West negotiations with a warning that "hopes for peace are not enough."

TASS SAID Khrushchev has accepted an invitation from the East German government to "visit the Leipzig International Fair."

The East German showcase fair at Leipzig opens tonight and runs through March 10. It was expected Khrushchev would leave for the fair immediately after Macmillan's scheduled departure from Moscow Tuesday.

WESTERN EXPERTS had no doubt that Khrushchev's visit to Germany would include negotiations for the transfer of control of West Berlin's lifelines to the German Communists, and possibly negotiations for a peace treaty with Red Germany as well.

There have been authoritative predictions that Khrushchev would seek to negotiate a "separate peace" with Russia's German Satellite.

Macmillan, who flew in from Kiev just before noon, said at the airport, "We must work for peace."

THE PRIME MINISTER'S declaration underlined rising western hopes that his visit here might lead to some sort of East-West negotiations before Russia's May 27 deadline in the Berlin crisis is reached.

Macmillan said he came to Moscow to try to get an understanding of Russia's point of view on outstanding problems.

Khrushchev has made it clear repeatedly, and most recently in his speech in Moscow Tuesday, that he wants a summit meeting. However, western diplomats said they did not believe he has closed the door completely on the idea of a foreign ministers conference.

Macmillan has been reported leaning toward the possibility of a summit meeting.

Several Shots Fired Near Home Of Fidel Castro

HAVANA (UPI)—Several shots were fired in the vicinity of the home of Premier Fidel Castro in Havana, presiding at a council of ministers meeting.

Unconfirmed reports said gunmen in two cars fired several shots at or in the vicinity of Castro's house. These reports said that the fire was returned by rural guards in the neighborhood.

Police denied the attack was directed at the home of the premier. They said six or seven shots were heard "some distance away" and attributed it to a neighbor shooting at a burglar.

China Accuses South Viet Nam Of New Incident

TOKYO (UPI)—Red China, launching a new campaign which may lead to a new crisis in the Far East, has accused South Viet Nam of kidnapping 82 Chinese fishermen from the disputed Paracel Islands.

A Communist broadcast said Viet Nam sailors intruded on the islands Sunday, seized the fishermen, tore down Communist flags and "took away five Chinese fishing vessels and other property."

The Red radio said Viet Namese authorities "will be held responsible for all the consequences" if they do not release the fishermen immediately, return their boats and compensate them for their losses.

Homes Pace Million Dollar Building Mark

Palm Springs witnessed another million-dollar building boom during the month of February, bringing total city construction for the first two months of 1959 to $2,211,461.

City Building Department officials today reported that resort builders called for 120 construction permits for $1,029,536 worth of new structures, eclipsing the $403,550 registered for February, 1958.

TOTAL CITY building for the first two months of 1958 was $1,546,100, well below this year's figure.

New homes accounted for the lion's share of last month's building. Permits were issued for 60 new dwellings, valued at $96,000.

TWENTY-SEVEN new swimming pools were added to the city, valued at $90,000. Construction of the new Desert Hospital Nurses' residence added another $58,000 to the February total.

Permits were also issued for 20 dwelling additions, worth $36,686; nine dwelling additions, $20,550; one trailer addition, $300; one apartment structure, $24,000 and one club addition, $2,000.

New Schools Maintenance Official Named

Board of Education members unanimously approved the appointment this week of Ed Allen as superintendent of maintenance for buildings and grounds for the Palm Springs Unified School District.

Allen, formerly a foreman in the maintenance department, drew board approval after the State Personnel Board rated him as top man in written and oral examinations given to 36 applicants for the superintendent's post.

HE HAS BEEN serving as acting superintendent following the recent resignation of Supt. Ted C. Hubbard.

Allen was recommended for the post by Schools Supt. Dwight Twist and Assistant Supt. Jack Miles after the test results were announced by the personnel board.

THE BOARD, serving as an impartial screening committee for applicants from all parts of Southern California, rated Allen highest in oral and written exams, although his experience was below that of other candidates.

The monthly salary for the new superintendent was set at $692 a month.

HOTEL FIRE CHECK CONTINUES TODAY

Investigators are continuing today to uncover evidence in the burning of the Desert Rooms Hotel, in which one man lost his life and another was badly injured.

Lt. Robert White said today that the investigation has shown that Thomas W. Wells, arson suspect in the case, was at the scene of the fire within 15 minutes of the time that the fire started.

ACCORDING TO Lt. White, a check on Wells' activities found that he had left the hotel about noon following an argument with Ada Williams, owner of the place.

Pravda Terms Boarding of Ship As 'Illegal Act'

MOSCOW, (UPI)—The Communist organ Pravda today described the U. S. Naval boarding of a Soviet trawler in the North Atlantic as an "illegal act."

"The American destroyer Hale unlawfully sent a boarding party to the Soviet fishing trawler Novorossiysk, which after a check on papers left the trawler," Pravda said in a dispatch dated New York.

The Communist organ did not comment editorially on the incident.

He went to a local bar where he reportedly spent the afternoon and evening, and then left, walking in the general direction of the room. Fifteen minutes before the fire broke out, he was seen by two women near the scene of the fire, and investigators said that they found his suitcase in the 400 block of Alejo Road.

WELLS IS BEING held on a drunk charge pending a discussion with Deputy District Attorney Rowland Williams this afternoon, when a formal complaint will be discussed.

Wells reportedly admits his argument with Mrs. Williams, but said that he did not threaten to "burn the place down."

Orbit Tries 'Scheduled' By Army, AF

Air Force Seeking Thor Nose Cone In Mid-Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UPI)—The Air Force fired a Thor-Able test rocket with a futuristic nose cone early today in a dramatic prelude to a space-probing doubleheader expected before the weekend is over.

After the towering Thor-Able started on its 5,000-mile journey down the Atlantic tracking range, Army rocketeers moved back in preparation for their second attempt to send a 13 pound payload past the moon and into orbit around the sun.

AND ON THE West Coast at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., the Air Force was getting ready for a third try at putting a 2,200-pound satellite into orbit around the earth with a two-stage rocket.

United Press International reported a month ago the Army would try to launch its four-stage Juno II space rocket today. But a lingering overcast at the Cape made the chances slim for getting the 76-foot rocket off because a ceiling of at least 2,000 feet is needed.

THE AIR FORCE made no statement on whether the Thor-Able flew its intended range.

Officials had hoped to recover the nipple-shaped nose cone, which may be used by the solid fuel Minuteman ICBM, from the South Atlantic for study.

The presence of two top officials in the Army space-probing project indicated that the Juno II launching was imminent. Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, commander of the Army ordnance missile command, arrived late last night and Dr. Jack E. Froelich of the jet propulsion laboratories has been here for several days.

THE ARMY HOPES its little Pioneer IV payload will skirt the moon 34 hours after the Juno II blasts off and go on to become a man-made planet in orbit around the sun.

Although the Thor-Able firing was not a "glamor" shot, the Air Force considered it important that the cone be recovered. Never has a nose cone been recovered at intercontinental range.

Africans Stone British Police

SALISBURY, Rhodesia, (UPI)—Police and white volunteers armed with rifles patrolled the streets of Blantyre in Nyasaland today because of a new outbreak of violence.

The city, the commercial center of the territory, was quiet, but workmen ringed the main jail and security posts with barbed wire in anticipation of possible new riots by the native population.

EIGHT DEAD, 20 MISSING AS HOCKEY ARENA ROOF DROPS

LISTOWEL, Ontario, (UPI)—Eight persons were reported killed and 20 more unaccounted for when a hockey arena roof collapsed here today.

Nine injured were admitted to a hospital. Four were released after treatment.

The fire department sent all available men and equipment to the scene where scores of volunteers, many of them parents of missing children, dug into the wreckage.

Twenty-five children and an unknown number of adults were on the ice for a children's hockey practice session when the roof collapsed.

IT'S NOT NEWS when important people come to Palm Springs to rest from the strain of their vigorous daily schedules. But it is news when you get eight men—each vitally important in his own work—into one room together. Villager Phil Regan hosts this assemblage this week, including—from left—Edgar Kaiser, president of

Kaiser Industries; Warren Dorn, Los Angeles County Supervisor; David McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America; Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, governor of California; Mon Wallgren, onetime governor of the State of Washington; Dan Kimball, ex-Secretary of

Village Philanthropist Aids Student Culture

Five members of tonight's audience for Erica Morini's violin recital at 8:15 p.m. in Palm Springs High School Auditorium, will be listening to the famed musician through the generosity of a Village philanthropist.

When the Palm Springs Community Concert Association conducted its first membership campaign almost two months ago, Mrs. Frankie Spitz purchased five student memberships. She turned them over to the association with the instruction that "five students interested in music should attend the concert, who would not otherwise be able to attend."

Administered by Alex Hammond, Palm Springs High School music director and an official of the concert group, the tickets sent five budding pianists to the Leon Fleisher concert in January and Hammond reported today that he has selected five violin students to attend the Morini concert tonight.

Banning Firm Submits Low Bid on Jail Building at Indio

Lowest of four bids received this week by the Board of Supervisors on the construction of an addition to the county jail at the Indio branch administrative center, was that of a Banning firm, Byerly Construction Co.

The amount of the bid was $91,850. The estimated cost of the project, including a telephone equipment room, was $91,000 exclusive of architects fees and a fund estimated for contingencies which totaled $7,284.

THE BYERLY BID, together with the three other bids received, was referred to the administrative officer, architect and county counsel for consideration with a recommendation to be made next Monday, March 2.

The other bidders were Gordon Fields of San Bernardino with a bid of $95,390; Associated Builders of Palm Springs, $98,900; and Press Construction Co. of Palm Springs, $105,890.

ON RECOMMENDATION by Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen the supervisors authorized transfers of funds totalling $80,000 to the Indio building account Tuesday. Andersen said construction at the Indio administrative center is proceeding more rapidly than anticipated and some of the expenses anticipated for the 1959-60 fiscal year will have to be taken care of this year.

The $80,000 is expected to provide sufficient money to completely equip the building which is nearing completion, to provide for all change orders, and to provide for building costs, architect's fees and Clerk of the Works for the jail addition on which bids were submitted. Andersen said it will take at least three months to complete the sale of the bonds which are to finance the jail addition at Indio. The transfer of funds will prevent delay in the meantime, and the money will be returned to the accounts from which it is taken, as soon as the bond money is available.

15-Year-Old Jenny Hecht To Have 'Dream' Come True

Ever since Jenny Hecht read the "Diary of Ann Frank" four years ago, the drama and poignancy of the doomed Jewish girl had been on her mind.

"I dreamed of playing that role," she said here yesterday. "I dreamed about it like nothing else I'd ever wanted to do."

ON MONDAY night the 16-year-old daughter of best-selling author Ben Hecht will get her chance, the title role in the Temple Isaiah benefit performance of the widely-acclaimed story.

"I'm stagestruck," Jenny said yesterday, taking a bite of hamburger and wiping a mustard-smeared hand across the seat of a pair of levis. "That's the only word you can use. But 'Ann Frank' is something different. I'd want to do it even if I were normal."

Her abnormality has driven her into well-billed spots in such things as "Mother Was a Bachelor" (she co-starred with Billie Burke) and "The Children's Hour" in stock and in "Midsummer" which she played on Broadway when she was age nine.

AT AN AGE when most girls are thinking about dates for movies and high school sports, Jenny has her mind on opening nights and memorizing her lines. Oddly enough, she says, the lines for the role of Ann Frank are coming easily for her.

"I guess that's because I feel I know her," Jenny grew pensive.

"I'd liked to have known her."

"She was the most optimistic person I've ever heard of."

"She spent 10 hours a day sitting down in a cramped little room, but her diary was filled with things like how beautiful the street outside looked when she saw it and how the canal was glistening when she last looked at it."

"I HAD TO SPEND 10 hours sitting down in the plane coming out here and I almost went crazy."

She flipped a page in her script of the poignant story. "I didn't think I was old enough to play this," she said, her brow furrowing over the brown eyes. She sat upright.

"I still don't think I am."

"But I hope I can bring some of the feeling of it across on Monday."

JENNY'S FAMOUS father — in fact, the entire Hecht family — planned out with the young actress and will be on hand along with a multitude of other civic leaders, celebrities and visiting dignitaries. But the caliber of the crowd isn't upsetting Miss Hecht in the least.

"I'm really working hard on the part," she said, a kind of diminutive determination showing on her face. "You know, I've dreamed about doing it."

JENNY HECHT, who plays the title role in "Diary of Ann Frank" to benefit Temple Isaiah in Monday performance at Palm Springs Playhouse, goes through her lines with Rudolph Ander, who plays the Father of Ann Frank, while Rabbi Joseph Hurwitz and Arthur Hersh, chairman of the benefit performance, listen. Event is expected to draw capacity crowd of civic leaders, dignitaries and visiting celebrities to the synagogue benefit. (Desert Sun Photo)

The Educators 'Bible'

Local High School Meets Conant 'Standards' -- Twist

Board of Education members last night happily embraced the comforting realization that Palm Springs High School ranks well up on the scale of progress for the American educational system.

Or so it appeared when the board waded step by step through the controversial "Conant Report," a hefty documentary on the rights and wrongs of "The American High School Today."

FREQUENTLY REGARDED as something of a "bible" for educators, the report of Dr. James B. Conant is the result of a concentrated study on some three-score high schools; its recommendations are rapidly attaining stature as a blueprint for schools across the nation.

The report was introduced to the board last night by School Supt. Dwight Twist, who pointed out that in many respects, Palm Springs High School has anticipated the Conant recommendations.

But Dr. Twist and board members agreed that there is a vast area open for improvement if the Palm Springs school system is to adopt recommendations of the Conant report as its "blueprint for the future."

SELDOM GENERALIZING, the Conant report dwells on specific shortcomings in the curriculum of American high schools and strives to answer the question: "What makes some schools very good and others bad?"

Generally, the Conant Report belies recent heavy criticism aimed at American schools, which, Twist pointed out, are far better than they're painted by the many outspoken critics.

HITTING HARD at deficiencies in programs for "academically talented" students, the Conant Report calls particularly for more advanced and individualized school programs that will benefit more capable learners without ignoring the larger bodies of "average" and sub-par students.

Local school administrators, at this point, noted that the "more capable learners" program instituted at the high school last spring is now progressing at an accelerated rate.

But board members generally agreed with Conant, a former Harvard University president, that an extension of the school day—adding one or two class periods—would be "extremely advantageous."

"HOWEVER," DR. Twist remarked, "many of Dr. Conant's recommendations involve budgetary problems which are not easily resolved."

An extension of the school day would result in serious transportation problems and additional financing. Similarly, a reduction in the size of classes, particularly in the English and history departments, would require heavy budgetary revision for the employment of more teachers.

"But should our students be limited in their schooling so they can catch a bus on time?" Twist asked, singling out the current,

Okla. Looking Ahead

OKLAHOMA CITY — (UPI) — Oklahoma's general election campaign, while spirited enough, is considered only a mild preview to what's expected next spring when the question of repealing prohibition is submitted to the voters.

All three candidates for governor are committed to a special election on whether or not to abandon Oklahoma's dry laws, which have been on the books since statehood in 1907.

The Democratic nominee is J. Howard Edmondson. The GOP candidate is Phil Ferguson, who is campaigning hard despite the fact that Oklahoma has never elected a Republican governor. The third man in the race is former FBI agent D.A. Jelly Bryce.

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes to be wrong.

Fact Finding Survey Important First Step Towards Desert County

Almost every "thinking" person who resides in this great Desert Empire recognizes that the formation of a new Desert County of the area now contained in the Fourth Supervisorial District would make possible a much better form of local government at the County level in every department of public service.

Granting these important and highly desirable improvements, the logical question from a strictly dollars and cents standpoint of the taxpayers and voters is "will the change from District to County government reduce taxes?"

No one can give an accurate answer until all of the facts and figures involved in the current operation of Riverside County as a whole, and the Fourth Supervisorial District, are assembled, analyzed, computed, compared and carefully projected into every phase of the transformation of a District into a County.

It is the considered opinion of many people of broad experience and knowledge of such affairs in Riverside County and the desert region that the creation of Desert County and its manifold benefits can be accomplished without extra cost to the taxpayers, and that large savings will actually be established without extra cost to the taxpayers, and that large savings will actually be established from year to year thereafter.

While these beliefs are encouraging, they need to be fortified by a complete gathering of all pertinent facts and data, and the definite results and expectations proven in a conclusive manner.

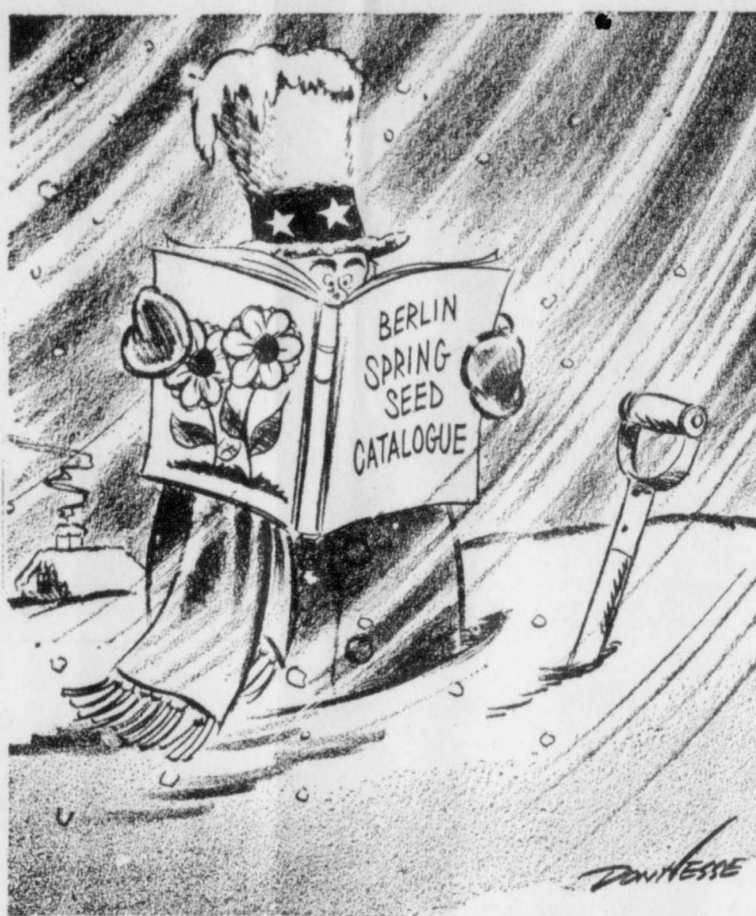

The leaders of Desert County, Inc., the non-profit group organized to serve the people of the district in forming a new County, is to be commended for adopting and following a policy of taking a thorough "look" before "leaping."

The first objective of Desert County Inc. is to raise a fund through popular subscriptions and memberships sufficient to contract for a complete factual audit and analysis of all County finances together with expert tabulations and projections involved in the proposed change.

The amount of money necessary to "get all of the facts" and present them to the people of the desert district is comparatively small as measured in terms of population and wealth of the region. Although the campaign is just starting, a highly favorable indication of enthusiastic public desire and response is seen in the number of donations already received ranging from a few dollars to as much as $200 given by one individual.

Since it is estimated that about six months will be required to obtain all facts necessary, make proper tabulations and complete the results for presentation to the people of the desert area, the sooner the fund total required is reached, the sooner the survey will start and the earlier the factual findings will be announced.

Every dollar donated to Desert County Inc. to finance the Fact Finding Survey will speed the day when the people of the Fourth District will receive a complete and accurate report of the tax savings as well as the benefits of creating Desert County.

Wait for the whistle
Ere you cross the street,
Stay safe on the curb,
Until you hear 'tweet, tweet'

Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann is doing a little research work to discover the best way to alleviate the growing traffic congestion in Palm Springs.

He's looking for the answer because he knows something must be done or we'll be choked by our own rapid growth.

SO HE IS stationing police not only at street intersections but at pedestrian crosswalks as well. For this program is designed along a new pattern. The police aren't there just to keep traffic in order.

They are there to regulate pedestrians.

And if that is taken care of, Chief Kettmann believes, the automobile jam will right itself and traffic will move smoothly.

IN THE PAST, pedestrian use of the crosswalks has been erratic and haphazard.

Too often, when one person has just about finished sauntering across the street but before traffic can resume, another group either follows or hops off the curb on the opposite side.

This has happened so often that at times traffic was backed up for more than a block.

UNDER THE NEW plan, pedestrians will cross only when signalled to do so by the traffic officers. By this orderly alternating of vehicular and pedestrian traffic, both will be kept moving in a smooth manner and the blockades will come to an end.

The plan was first tried out last weekend and then during the middle of the week when Indian Avenue was partly blocked by a construction project and much of its usual traffic diverted to Palm Canyon Drive, filling that thoroughfare to capacity.

IN CONNECTION with the plan which Chief Kettmann is checking to see how it works, there'll be a crackdown on jaywalkers. There is no city ordinance against jaywalking but it is in the California Vehicle Code.

People are going to be urged—firmly—to use the crosswalks. Otherwise the value of the traffic police problems which takes up much man-power, would be lost.

SPEAKING OF the CVC, Gov. Pat Brown signed into law this week a bill revising the code.

No more will a drunk driver be a 502. Under the new numbering system, drunk driving is taken care of in Section 23.101. That in itself would be a test for drunk drivers — to see if they could pronounce that number.

Also, speeding which was 510, is now 22.50.

BUT THE CHANGE in the code numbers is going to make me feel much better.

Because the license plate on the family car is JMJ 502.

And traffic police always look suspiciously at us when they see that 502. You can't get 23.101 on a plate.

Happiest guy I know will be a friend up in central California.

He really got it. His plate is CVC 502.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

On rainy afternoons like this, my thoughts run rampant. Climb aboard.

What, I would like to know, ever happened to Jim Dorothy Brown?

Jim Dorothy was in every daily print a couple of years ago. And I will refresh your memory—as the D.A. says when he is about to give you the business. I will refresh your memory that Jim Dorothy was a wide-eyed cupcake from the Carolina hills.

HER PICTURE showed her in a shirt and a cutoff pair of raggedy jeans. And the purtiest shanks outside a Latin Quarter revue.

It was historic journalism. And for days Hollywood mogus wired her million-dollar offers.

THAT IS THE trouble with us journalists. Flighly. Off with the old, on with the old, on with the new. That was two, or was it three, years ago.

What did happen to Jim Dorothy? Did she go to Hollywood? Or did she stay unspooled in those Carolina hills? A stackin' wood for Pappy's corn reducer.

IT WAS A SIMPLE story. A news photographer was strolling that sylvan countryside, just a whoop and a holler from Mooseville, N.C.

Out of the brush stepped this child of Nature.

The cameraman was so flabbergasted he could hardly set his f.8 exposure.

"Child of Nature," he said.

"Say 'cheese'."

The photograph then went the mysterious rounds of wirephoto. And it was a short-sighted editor who did not give Jim Dorothy at least two columns. On a good printing page.

WHAT HAPPENED to Mary Jane Hare? Omaha, Neb.

Seven years ago at this time, Mary Jane was receiving gifts from an unknown admirer. It drove her wild.

For 12 days in a row she got gifts: A clock, a set of rosary beads, long-stemmed roses, carnations, a cameo and a rhinestone bracelet.

On the 12th and final day, she got a sweetheart bracelet and earrings. They were set in rubies.

and diamonds. With it came a note:

"I'M LEAVING your beauty and city today. Hope to see you in three months. Still think you're cute."

What HAPPENED, for heaven's sake? What happened three months later?

Did the anonymous donor show up? Did love blossom in Mary Jane's beauty parlor? Or is she still giving the rinse and finger wave and saying:

"You know, a funny thing happened to me once . . ."

ALL SORTS OF little tag ends hand out the side of my reading life. I am updated on Eddie and Debbie. Miss Marilyn Monroe could not sneeze but I get the flash by all the powers of wired communication.

But the others. The ones that flash by like a glimpse from a train window. It is frustrating.

Where are the Miss Americas of yesteryear? What has happened to the Locktown, Mo., boy who swore to sit in an oak tree until his ladylove promised to marry him.

WHAT HAPPENED to Diana Rains-Bath, the hypnotized lady of Lewes, England.

Eight years ago, Diana went to the flics where a hypnotist put her on the stage and induced her to holler: "Peanuts!"

As I recall, he could not bring her out of this sad state. And for all we know, Diana may still be ringing the English welkin with "Peanuts!"

All these are unanswered: Jim Dorothy, Mary Jane, the boy up a tree.

On such rainy days, these things come back to memory. I pause for reply. And echo answers, "Peanuts!"

A Fellow American Needs a Friend

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Among the early spring rituals along the Potomac is one impishly known as the Trial of the Apocrite — Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture.

Each year Mr. Benson comes before the Agriculture Committees of Senate and House to present — or more accurately, to defend—the Administration farm programs. These appearances have featured an ascending order of wrath by the Senators and Representatives.

IN MR. BENSON'S current trial before the Senate committee, he was accused of (a) blackening the farmer's name, (b) losing his party the farmer's vote, (c) falsifying statistics to prove his point and (d) being stubborn as a mule and stupid as a sheep. Mr. Benson always returneth the soft answer. Sometimes he says: "I used to be a farmer myself." And sometimes he replies with a gibberish of interlocking statistics which convince none and confuse all.

After six years of covering these trial scenes in Capitol Hill committee rooms, your reporter feels like joining the jury and giving the verdict on Secretary Benson: guilty as charged. The highest crime on his graying head is that of character assassination. With malice toward none, Mr. Benson has nevertheless wrecked the reputation of the American farmer.

WHEN WE HAD certain Democratic Secretaries of Agriculture who were nitwits and numbskulls, it was the habit of some of us to josh the farmer about producing milk for the Hottentots and practicing Socialism from a Cadillac. But the laughs, I'm afraid, have turned to jeers and even sneers and slurs under the regime of Mr. Benson. His policies have brought mounting Federal costs, sinking farm income and sunken public relations for that 12 per cent of the American population which supplies food and fiber for us all.

If possible, that is the latest statistic I propose to use in this and other farm pieces. Sums and percentages have been the undoing, the dehumanization of the American farmer. He is a fellow who operates much more complicated machinery than a typewriter, moves his wares to a market much more crowded than the newspaper columns, reads and hears more baseless charges against himself than do most politicians.

THE AVERAGE farmer does not get a fat subsidy, if any, does not wallow in any sort of wealth and does not elect Congressmen who are second-story men at the Federal Treasury. True, there are farm corporations which rake in big money from the Government and lobby for more. True, there are farm organizations whose headquarters staffs in Washington raise a great bustle for socialized hand-outs. But the average farmer is probably losing money, losing faith and—worst of all—losing face.

Secretary Benson has contributed to the farmer's degradation, but so have many of us who have written unsympathetically about the farmer, our fellow American. Richard Neuberger, who is both a Senator (D. Ore.) and a professional writer, remarked to me that his recent battle against cancer had taught him something:

"WHEN YOU'VE been through what I have," he said, "you can see both sides."

Well, Neuberger recently made one of the finest Senate speeches of his career on our folly in making the farmer "an economic scapegoat." "Nobody," he says, "claims that existing farm policy is an unqualified success." But then, seeing both political sides of the question, Senator Neuberger goes on:

"ONE OF THE REAL difficulties in my opinion is the partisan, political ambitions have tried to blame Secretary of Agriculture Bensons for technological adjustments on the farm which have been occurring for decades. This is unfair and untrue. . . . On the other hand, there are prominent Republicans who pretend unctuously to be shocked over price supports (in the Democratic South) . . . and yet who demand even greater benefactions of this sort for corn (in the normally Republican Middle West)."

Neuberger has no solution for the farm problem, but he proposes, if I read him right, that we take the trouble to rediscover this Lost American. The American Farmer, if you're asking me, has much more to forgive of his country than the other way around.—Holmes Alexander.

Conflicts With TV

STOKE, England (UPI) — The Rev. Anthony Otter, bishop of Grantham, has changed the time of his Lenten services on Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 7:15 p.m.

Too many parishioners want to watch a TV show on British family life called "The Archers" which is on at the earlier hour.

A Real Emergency

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Dr. John Zeigler sent for a copy of federal government publication No. 15700, "Handbook For Emergencies."

Two weeks later, 15,700 copies of the publication arrived at his home.

Bird Gives Name

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Franciscans today were asked to be on the lookout for Mrs. Joseph Cammerata's parakeet. She said he would be easily identified as he introduces himself with: "I'm Patrick Cammerata . . . Mission 7-2012."

Ah—Choo!

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — State Rep. La Mont Glass wants to substitute the camellia for goldenrod as Alabama's state flower.

He said goldenrod is a weed which originally grew only in the north. Besides it causes hay fever.

Bank Must Borrow

MIAMI (UPI) — Officers of the Central Bank and Trust Company scurried around to other banks to raise enough money to meet Friday payroll demands. Something had gone wrong with their vault's timing device and they couldn't get at their own money.

Lobbyist Gets Reward

COLUMBUS, S. C. (UPI) — Sergeant-at-arms Henry Mills of the South Carolina House of Representatives got his reward from a group of pretty lady bank employs for lobbying for a bill to close banks on Saturday.

He girls declared a "Henry Mills kissing day."

NEW YORK — Arlene Francis' son Peter, who's 12, had to do some reading, and decided to undertake "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

"That's pretty tough going," his mother warned him.

"Well, that's what I'd like to read," he said. So she bought him the book.

A few days later he screamed: "Mama, that book is 491 pages long and there's not one word in it about footballs!"

"He had figured out," Arlene explained to me in her dressing room at the National Theater the other day, "that it was a hunchback who made good as half-back out at South Bend."

At least that's how Arlene tells the story. You may remember this was also the son who—when Cardinal Spellman laid a hand on his shoulder and said "God bless you"—replied, "I didn't hear anybody sneeze."

With Arlene's "Home" show long off the air at NBC, millions of TV fans miss those tales, but Arlene is happy co-starring with Joseph Cotton in "Once More With Feeling" because she contends that the theater is "the caviar of the acting business."

"Sometimes, I admit, it's just that red caviar," she laughed. "In this show it is a pleasure to walk out on stage in all those glorious clothes."

"But the 'Home' show I do miss. I traveled all over the world — Monaco, Rotterdam, Japan, Texas — it was more than a college education."

So don't be astonished if she is seen soon in a new male-versus-female conversation show plotted by Leland Hayward.

"I have some of my homework for it right here," Arlene indicated a paperback book titled, "The American Sex Revolution." And she added: "I was watching Jack Paar giving away things the other night and I thought, 'I left the business at the wrong time. I used to get all that gravy. They used to give me an icebox or something every week!'"

Being free of that daily madness has given Arlene a little more time to be Mrs. Martin Gabel, wife of the producer of her own show who is also playing quite brilliantly the role of Stephen A. Douglas in the hit play, "The Rivalry."

"And I guess I get probably 30 letters a week from 'What's My Line' viewers — which is fantastic, considering we're going into our 10th year."

Besides, there's her weekly NBC radio show, "Family Living."

And, of course, charity events — and interviews. A nice woman reporter wanted Arlene to explain her charm. That she found difficult. One magazine didn't want to carry an article on her because she was too lovable. Evidently didn't hate anybody at all!

"I persuaded Billy Rose to paint my dressing room here," she said. "Didn't he do it beautifully?"

"Then I said to him, 'Billy, how do I get a carpet for this room?'"

"He said, 'Well, you go to a store, and you pick out some carpet, and then when it comes, you pay for it.' I said, 'Thanks a lot!'"

One of Arlene's charms is that she exaggerates her frailties, which are supposedly feminine.

I had written a piece about her which she said she liked. "Loved it," she said, "all except there in the front where somebody inserted my birthdate." (October 20, 1908) "It's a gross mistake!" And that led her to tell me that her uncle, Dr. Varazast Kazanjian of Boston, the great plastic surgeon, is still keeping his hand steady against that day when he will be summoned to give her a facelift.

"He's 70, but he's strong and well," she cheerfully assured me. "I see him from time to time, and I say to him, 'You're taking care of yourself, aren't you? You're watching those red lights!'"

With her son rated scholastically as a genius, her husband the greatest Stephen A. Douglas since Stephen A. Douglas, Playwright Harry Kurnitz maintaining that their Broadway show is a hit, and Dorothy Kilgallen (her dressing roommate on "What's My Line?") asserting she's never seen her in a bad mood, everything's very much all right with Arlene.

You remember, of course, when she wired a friend who'd just had a baby, "Don't take any wooden nippies!" Joseph Cotton, her leading man on Broadway, can't recall any mottos he's heard her utter, but he's fond of the story that a Hollywood group was discussing a rather celebrated man who'd been a dentist and then become a brain surgeon.

"How could that have happened so fast?" somebody inquired — and Arlene, getting right to the point, said "His drill slipped!"

MIKE CONNOLLY:

New Anthology Series

HOLLYWOOD—Barbara Stanwyck talking about her new anthology series for NBC-TV, currently shooting, with Barbara herself starring in a "woman's story" every other week, the in-between segment being a "man's story":

"No, it's not a copy of The Loretta Young Show. Mine will be more hard-hitting, meaty, dramatic. I don't like the kind of show where the woman is left at the log cabin with the kids, waving as the men ride off. I always want to go where the fellows go!"

"MISS STANWYCK on watching her own old movies on The Late Show: 'I wish they would quit cutting the key scenes. I know they have to insert the commercials somewhere but why don't they get smarter cutters?'"

"For instance, 'The Other Love,' the movie I made with David Niven — that dramatic scene at the end where I'm dying of consumption, David knows I'm dying, I know it, he's talking to me about it — believe me, it was a VERY difficult scene to do. And then, on TV, right in the middle of the scene, when David is talking and I'm gasping my last breath, they end it! It makes me look like an idiot."

RAYMOND BURR will spend this summer away from the Perry Mason series shooting his own movie, "Naked Is the Flesh." It's about an ex-GI in post-World War II Italy.

Eddie Cantor caught a late Valentine movie on last Valentine's Day — a monster picture: Ghoul meets gal, ghoul gets gal, ghoul gives gal a REAL heart!

Speakin' of cutting old movies, there's one line from an old Ginger Rogers-Fred Astaire movie now making the Late-Late circuit—"Born to Dance"—that had a line from Cole Porter's "Easy to Love" scissored from the footage even before the picture left the cutting room "way back in 1936: 'You'd be so sweet to awaken with, so nice to sit down to eggs and bacon with.'"

BING CROSBY will co-produce a new television series, Lincoln Jones, with Sy Gomberg — on his old home lot, Paramount. Title: roller will be ex-Metro star James Whitmore.

Lucille Ball is going right ahead "with her Desilu Workshop for young actors and actresses, despite criticism from all sides. She plans using all her kids in an original musical by Hugh Wedock and Howard Snyder, who used to write special songs for Tallulah Bankhead's old Big Show on radio.

LUCY HERSELF will produce and she plans beaming it as a Westinghouse-Desilu segment in mid-April. . . . And if you saw the Wagon Train segment last Valentine's Day I think you'll agree with me Lucy should assign one of her most brilliant Workshopers, ex-Chicagoan Patricia Huston, to a top role in the musical. Because Pat popped with one of the year's most perfect performances.

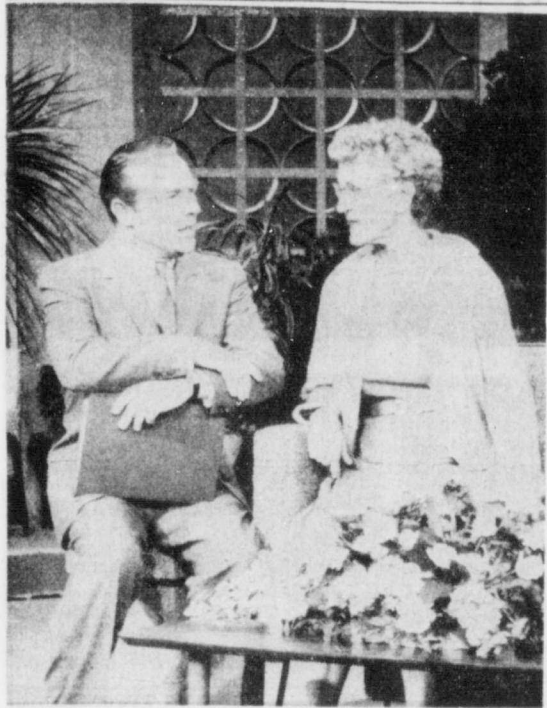

Who's been criticizing Lucy? For one, Eddie Rubin, co-producer of The Bob Cummings Show. "The trouble with these 'workshop acting classes is that after the classes they turn into kaffeeklatches and date parties. Instead of working to improve their acting, the kids become preoccupied with the social end of it—and nobody yet has made a career out of being linked as half of a Beatnik coffeehouse twosome!"

COMEDIENNE BETTY Kean cops a regular spot as a Broadway press agent who supplies gossip columnists with juicy news items on Dennis O'Keefe's new show for United Artists-TV. Dennis plays the columnist — and thanks, you Irisher, but I'm busy enough without being your technical advisor!

Philco and Westclox weren't kidding when they said their two-hour April 26 CBS-TV revival of Metro's "Meet Me in St. Louis" will have a clang clang clang went the trolley of top stars in the old Judy Garland musical. In addition to Jane Powell, the show will star Tab Hunter, Walter Pidgeon, Jeanne Crain, Ed Wynn and Myrna Loy—the same Miss Loy who looked "younger than springtime" on "What's My Line?" two Sundays ago (Feb. 15).

LOLA ALBRIGHT must have been eavesdropping on Barbara Stanwyck. She will have more to do on future Peter Gunn segments, on which she hasn't been required to do more than stand in the doorway and wave at the menfolk.

The 77 Sunset Strip cast, at the behest of Elfron Zimbalist Jr., has started something new — for Hollywood, or any other place I guess. They all kiss the director every morning when report for work. A very charming custom, too, inasmuch as the director is Ida Lupino.

"THIS IS YOUR LIFE," says Ralph Edwards as he starts last Wednesday night's program, watched coast-to-coast by millions of viewers, which featured Palm Springs' Flying Great-Grandmother Zaddie Bunker, seated right. Zaddie was met at the airport in Burbank by Ralph Edwards and then taken to the Burbank studios for the balance of the show.

"THE WAY IT'S DONE," says an NBC Technician, "when we put still pictures of you on the screen, is they are mounted on this board and the camera gets a closeup of them." The Zaddie Bunker story was written by Desert Sun reporter Fred Weigel, and prepared for television by Janet Tighe of "This Is Your Life" staff.

FRANCES BARA, winner of the 1955 Powder-Puff Derby, was responsible for saving Zaddie's life while flying in the race from Washington, D.C., to Havana, Cuba. Zaddie became lost in a storm, and Mrs. Bara found her. They are shown above looking at the script.

Confusion Continues Over County Building Expansion

Confusion over building plans and expansion of county departments in Riverside grew this week with a new proposal by Taxpayers United, a change submitted by Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen in his comprehensive building plan, and a renewed proposal that the county lease the Cal-electric building on Eighth Street.

The Cal-electric building proposal was definitely turned down by a four to one vote, with Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain dissenting, after Andersen advised against its use. Said he, "It is a good Class A building, but it is three and a half blocks from the courthouse and would split county operations."

HE POINTED OUT also that it is three stories high with no elevator, and that there is no parking area adjacent to the building.

The new Taxpayers United proposal was filed along with the changes submitted by Andersen for his own plan, for continued study.

ANDERSEN'S proposed changes include making the new building at the south end of the courthouse three stories basically for expansion of the jail, and putting the probation department on a third floor of the health center on Eleventh Street, and the schools department office on the fourth floor of the same building.

Andersen asked that the architect, Herman O. Ruhnu, be instructed to proceed with preliminary schematics for the two structures, with the proposed changes. Ruhnu has already been authorized to proceed with plans for the jail building.

Olmedo in Feature Of Today

Top-seeded players advanced in the first round of the Palm Desert Invitational tennis tournament yesterday at Shadow Mountain Club but there were some close matches which extended the stars to the limit.

In the first round of the women's singles, Beverly Baker Fleitz lived up to advance bookings by defeating Ann Johnson of Thermal 6-1, 6-0.

Two upsets marked the opening day. Former Davis Cupper, Bob Perry was ousted by Roger Werksman and Raphael Osuna, Mexican star, defeated Mike Green.

Today's big feature will be the appearance of Olmedo. He drew a bye in the first round.

Armstrong Gets Bout With Webb As Result Win

NEW YORK (UPI) — Unbeaten Gene (Ace) Armstrong was so impressive while registering his 17th straight victory Friday night on a near-shutout decision that he will be matched with Spider Webb, third-ranking middleweight contender, at Madison Square Garden, May 15.

Slender, lightning-fast Armstrong of Elizabeth, N.J., beat chunky Italo Scorticchi, champion of Italy, by an official 9-1, 9-1, 9-1 score in their 10-round TV fight at the Garden.

All three ring officials gave only the second round to the wild-swinging, black-haired Italian, who weighed 161 pounds to Armstrong's 157½. Armstrong was favored at 4-1.

When matchmaker Jack Barrett offered the Webb fight today Armstrong said, "certainly I'll fight Webb, or any other contender. I figure I'm ready for any of them now. I've come on fast although I've had only 17 fights."

Webb of Chicago is a dangerous boxer-puncher. Armstrong, 27, is the fastest man in his division. But he's a light hitter, who scored but one knock in his 17 victories.

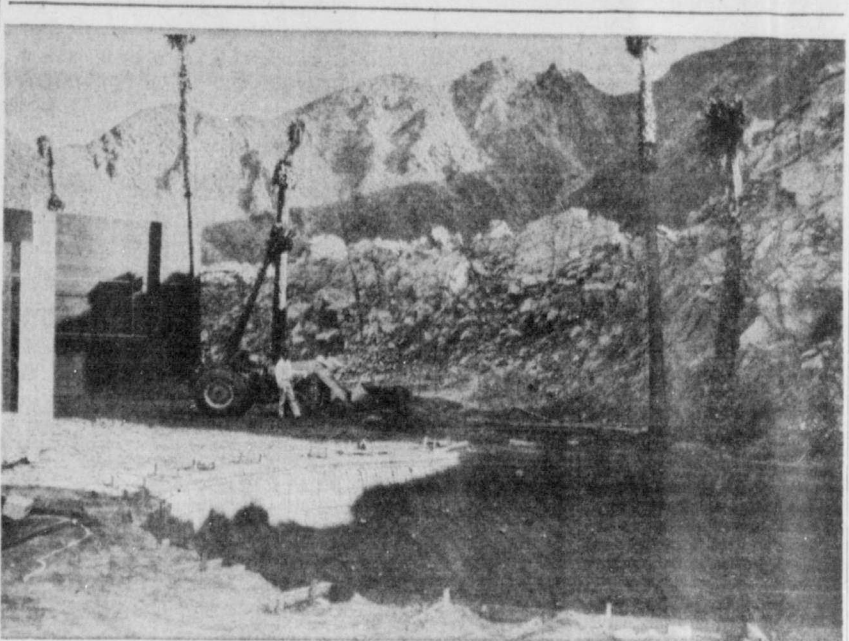

Garcia and Moser Meet at Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Roberto Momo Garcia of Acapulco, Mexico, takes an impressive record into a 10-round featherweight fight with California featherweight champion Jimmy Moser tonight at Legion Stadium.

The 20-year-old Mexican has a 23-0 record, 6 lost and 1 draw record highlighted by 15 knockouts. It will be Garcia's debut in an American ring.

CONSTRUCTION IS moving fast on the new Indian Wells Country Club clubhouse, and workmen this week installed the palms around the site and made ready to complete the two pools which will be located north of the clubhouse. There is a regular swimming pool for club members and a children's pool. Yesterday workmen cleared a site on top of the mountain in back of the clubhouse for a patio, which will overlook the 18th hole. The entire project will be completed and in use in time for the second annual Pow Wow Tournament, scheduled for April 30 - May 1 and 2. SAN PEDRO MEETS CVSL NINE TONIGHT AT POLO GROUNDS

John Marinko, manager of the Palm Springs baseball team, sponsored by the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association, announced today that the San Pedro Pirates will meet the local nine in a game under the lights at the Polo Grounds tonight.

Arrangements for the game were completed yesterday. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Indians Highest Scoring Outfit In League Race

Final statistics on Riverside County League basketball released this week show Palm Springs High School, which finished with an 8-6 record in third place was the highest scoring aggregation in the loop with 727 points in 14 games for a 51.9 point per game average. On defense, however, they ranked sixth, allowing 686 enemy points for a 48.7 point mark.

Banning, league winners, showed the best defense allowing only 492 points, an average of 35.1. Joe Lewis finished third in individual scoring in the 14-game schedule with 209 points for a 15.7 average. In fourth place was Stan Crata who bucketed 181 for a 12.9 average. Dick McFarland was also in the top 20 scorers with 107 points for an 8.2 average.

NBA GAME RESCHEDULED

NEW YORK (UPI) — The postponed National Basketball Association game of Feb. 10 between Detroit and St. Louis has been rescheduled for Wednesday night, March 4, at the University of Detroit field house.

First Landing 4-5 In Flamingo

MIAMI (UPI) — First Landing, with Eddie Arcaro in the saddle to keep him from "loading," takes on nine rivals today in the gaudy $100,000-added Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah before an expected crowd of some 35,000 racing fans.

The C. T. Cheney colt, a son of the Irish-bred Turn-To which won the 1954 Flamingo, was rated an early 4-5 favorite to capture the 30th running of the mile and one-eighth event.

MARINE TOURNEY OPENS

QUANTICO, Va. (UPI) — Hawaii, which had a season 32-2 record, opposes San Diego, Calif., which in the first round of the All-ran up a 32-6 mark, Monday night Marine basketball tournament.

STAN MUSIAL, a cinch to rank with the all-timers when he finally calls it a day, finished third in the batting race with a mere .337 as Richie Ashburn of the Phils won on a .350 average and Willie Mays was second with .347.

But Musial is far and away on top in lifetime hitting with an overall .340. There is a big drop in the career department to the second plane Mays at .318, Hank Aaron at .316 and Ashburn at .315. And it must be pointed out that only eight of the 200 players in the National League have a lifetime average of over .300.

Jiminez Pounds Way To Unanimous Win

SAN DIEGO — Pima Barajas Jiminez, Tijuana, counter-puncher, won a unanimous decision over Ross Padilla, Stockton, Friday night in a 10-round featherweight bout. Both fighters weighed 121.

SIGNS WITH MIAMI CORAL GABLES, Fla., (UPI) — Bob (Whitey) Campbell, who won 12 letters in baseball, football and basketball at the University of Miami, has signed as assistant backfield coach of the Hurricanes.

Predict New Records in Winter Meet

Athletes from 10 Nations Compete In Squaw Valley

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif., (UPI) — New world records in speed-skating and outstanding performances in the 30-kilometer cross-country were expected today as athletes from 10 nations, resumed competition at the North American ski championships.

These championships were awarded to Squaw Valley this year to allow a "dress rehearsal" for the 1960 Winter Olympics, and competitors and officials agree the facilities here are ready now. "It looks as if this rink will be the fastest in the world," said Sven Laftman of Sweden, vice-president of the International Skating Union.

"The cross-country course is excellent," said Sigge Bergman of Sweden, Rolf Hohenhuth of Finland and Arne Harsheim of Norway, leaders of their teams.

In skating, which is an international invitational meet and not actually part of the North American championships, the 500-meter and 5000-meter races were to be contested today in the usual Olympic fashion, the men skating in pairs against time.

Genadii Voronin of Russia, the 1959 European 500-meter champ, and Alf Gjestvang of Sweden were the top 500-meter favorites, with Don McDermott of the U. S., who clocked 40.5 seconds in practice, weakened by an influenza attack. Knut Johansson of Norway and Oleg Goncharenko, three-time world champion, were the favorites in the 5000-meter race.

Boys Club Takes Part in National Billiard Tourney

Boys Club of Palm Springs is participating in the 15th Annual Charles Peterson Boys Clubs of America pocket billiards tournament sponsored by the Boys Clubs of America and the Billiard Congress of America.

John M. Gleason, national director of Boys Clubs of America said that this year more than 20,000 boys are entered in the tournament. "It's a healthy, competitive sport that keeps the boys doing something they like which keeps them from doing things they shouldn't," he said.

"One of the advantages of billiards as a club game," said Henry Lockwood, director of the local Boys Club, "is that all ages can play. The tournament is in two age brackets, junior, 11-13, and intermediate, 14-16."

"We have junior experts who are only eight years old and there may very well be a potential Willie Hoppe in the group."

The tournament is named in honor of Charles C. Peterson, world's trick shot champion.

O'Brien Propels Shot Beyond Own Record

Parry O'Brien, banker and local resident and also holder of the world's 16-pound shot-put record, had a little fun yesterday.

He was in the stands as the University of Southern California Frosh took on Compton Jaycee in a dual meet.

When Dallas Long, the Arizona shot-put youngster, heaved the pellet as his second toss as a collegian for 63 feet, 4 inches, O'Brien swung into action.

His world's record, official, is 63 feet, 2 inches.

So when the measurement of Long's heave was announced, O'Brien left the stands.

Went into the dressing room and donned his track togs.

Eldorado, El Roble in Rematch Tomorrow

Teams to Go Into Tilt Even

Things are going to be different tomorrow according to Will Tevis, captain of Eldorado Polo Club whose team meets El Roble of Mexico City, champions of that nation, tomorrow afternoon at Eldorado Fields.

When the two teams met last Sunday in the first of two international matches, El Roble team, rated 16 goals, won from Eldorado, rated 13 goals, 8 to 4.

TOMORROW both teams will go into the game as 16-goal teams as Tevis has strengthened the local club by the addition of Leo Hulseman and Bob Skeene, two high goal players.

El Roble will ride on to the field with the same team that played last Sunday.

An added touch in tomorrow's match is that the California-Mexico Polo Cup, won last year from San Francisco by El Roble, will be at stake.

WINNER in tomorrow's game will retain the Cup for a year when it will be up for challenge again.

Bob Skeene is Australian-born and was a member of the last British International Polo team. He is a 10-goal player.

Leo Hulseman is a Chicagoan and has been playing polo for many years. He is a member of Eldorado Polo Club.

Line-ups for tomorrow's match which starts at 2 p.m. at Eldorado Fields:

EL ROBLO: Willie Altes, Leo Hulseman, Bob Skeene, Morris Morrison. EL DORADO: Will Tevis, Chico Gracida, Fred Becerra, Kevin Anize.

BOB SKEENE, 10-goal player and rated one of the best now playing, will join the Eldorado Polo Club team in its game tomorrow with El Roble, champions of Mexico, at Eldorado Fields starting at 2 p.m.

Reds, Cards, Braves Still Talking Trade

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds were trying to close a big deal for National League strikeout king Sam Jones today while the Milwaukee Braves again were faced with the urgent necessity of replacing second baseman Red Schoendienst.

The United Press International learned in Tampa, Fla., that general managers Bing Devine of the St. Louis Cardinals and Gabe Paul of the Reds were discussing a deal that would have Jones going to Cincinnati for outfielder Jerry Lynch and a pitcher. There was a "good chance" the deal would be completed.

Jones, 33, established a Cardinal record by striking out 225 batters while posting a 14-13 record last year. His 2.8 earned run average was topped only by the 2.47 mark maintained by Stu Miller of San Francisco.

The Braves' Bradenton, Fla., training camp scene received a severe jolt when it was learned that Mel Roach, heir apparent to the job vacated by the ailing Schoendienst, definitely would not be ready for the season opener on April 10.

Roach injured his left knee last

Aug. 10 and it was thought a corrective operation would have him fit for action when at National League champions took the field in search of their third straight pennant.

The Los Angeles Dodger also had new casualties on their hands at Vero Beach, Fla., when pitcher Johnny Podres suffered a bruised back in a collision with catcher John Roseboro during a play at first base.

Trainer Harold (Doc) Wender said that Podres wasn't seriously injured, but because of the pitcher's history of back trouble "we'll have to wait a day or two to see how he feels."

THERE WERE a couple of bright notes along the training circuit as the New York Yankees finally signed Mickey Mantle and Jackie Jensen inked a Boston Red Sox contract.

Mantle received a $5,000 raise to $80,000 as the world champions caught their last holdout. The salary figure equals Babe Ruth's top money year, but falls short of the club record $100,000 received by Joe DiMaggio.

Jensen, the American League's Most Valuable Player of 1953, signed for a reported $40,000, an approximate raise of $10,000.

Dr. Johnson To Continue Sermons Here

Dr. Barclay Johnson, Administrator of Education of the Church of Religious Science, Los Angeles, continues his series of Lenten lectures at the Church of Religious Science of Palm Springs, where Sunday Services are held at the Village Theatre.

Con Maffie, organist, presents 15 minutes of meditation music beginning at 10:45 and the service begins promptly at 11 a.m.

This Sunday Dr. Johnson will speak on the theme, "The End of the Beginning." It is his conviction that "most of us are so negatively conditioned that we find it difficult to stop fretting and to start living."

"When we learn how to end old patterns," Dr. Johnson said, "and begin the practice of new techniques for affirmative living, we are on the threshold of the abundant life."

'Christ Jesus' To Be Lesson Sermon Sunday

The availability of the Christ, which every one is seeking, is explained Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on "Christ Jesus" to be read in all Christian Science churches.

Scriptural selections relate that during Jesus' journey in Judea, he was met by two men who said, "John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?" (Luke 7:20).

JESUS' ANSWER is quoted in a passage from the chapter on "Atonement and Eucharist" in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"Jesus sent a message to John the Baptist, which was intended to prove beyond a question that the Christ had come: 'Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard: how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached.'"

"In other words: Tell John what the demonstration of divine power is, and he will at once perceive that God is the power in the Messianic work" (p. 27).

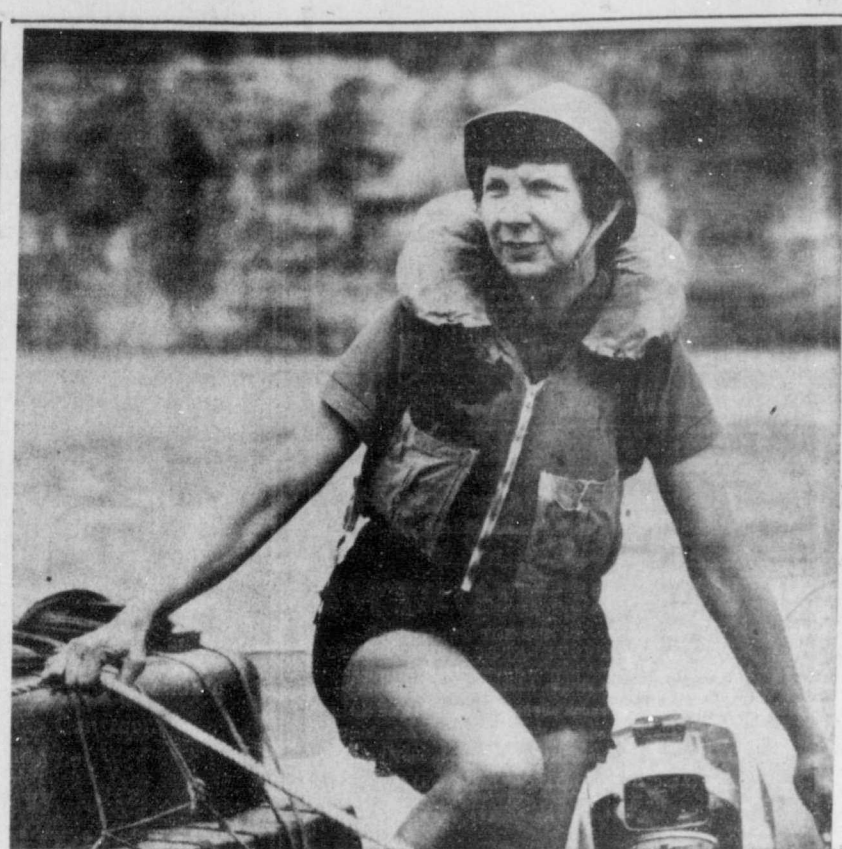

The high light of the Lesson-Sermon is expressed in the Golden Text from John's Gospel, "The law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ" (1:17).

Radio Christian Science Program To Be Presented

"Wilt Thou Be Made Whole" will be the subject of a Christian Science program to be given on Columbia's "Church of the Air," in cooperation with the Christian Science Church on Sunday, March 1, at 7:30 a.m. over Radio Station KNX (1060 kc).

The speaker will be John J. Selover of Boston, Mass., associate editor of The Christian Science Journal, Sentinel, and Herald. Selover, originally of Long Beach, held the office of Christian Science Committee on Publication for Southern California for a number of years.

The program will be presented through the facilities of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. Because they suffer more accidents and because they develop arteriosclerotic and other degenerative diseases earlier, men have a higher incidence of blindness than women.

RIVER RAT is George White, founder of the organization of the same name. She will present a film titled "George's Roaring River"—a boat trip over the rugged Grand Canyon of Colorado—at 8 p. m., tonight, Saturday, in Desert Museum.

Missionary to Be Speaker Sunday At Community

CATHEDRAL CITY — Rev. William Grubbs, who has recently completed a five-year tour of duty as a missionary to the Presbyterian Church of Korea, will be guest speaker at the Community Church of Cathedral City at 11 a.m., Sunday.

The minister, now on a year furlough in the United States with his wife, will discuss the "Young Church in Action."

The choir will sing Mozart's "Praise Jehovah!"

At 9:30 a.m., school will be held for all age groups. Child care is provided throughout the morning services.

Dear Abby... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I am a very mature girl for my age, which is 13. I am in love with a boy who is 14. We've gone steady for two months, six days and seven hours. He says he loves me but when somebody else is around he acts like he doesn't hardly know me. He gave me his Eagle Scout pin but I had to promise that I wouldn't wear it where anyone could see it. I don't think this is fair because what's the good of going steady if nobody knows it? What do you think I ought to do?

GOING STEADY BUT NOT GOING STEADY
DEAR GOING BUT: Return his Eagle Scout pin. His behaviour is for the birds.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of an eight-year-old son and a two-month-old baby girl. My son plays with an eleven-year-old neighbor boy and we are good friends with his parents. The boys were playing on my porch and I was making a lot of noise so I told them to quiet down as the baby was asleep. The eleven-year-old boy purposely made more noise and stomped his feet. I told him to get off my porch. He mumbled some dirty filthy language at me under his breath. I told him not to talk to me like that and he said, "Who's going to stop me?" I took my own son inside. That night I telephoned the boy's mother and told her what happened. She said her son had told her everything and I had no right to send him away. I was shocked that she would take that attitude. This is the FIRST and LAST time I ever speak to a parent about their children. Who is in error?

STUNNED
DEAR STUNNED: You were right in informing your neighbor. Most parents appreciate knowing how their children misbehave away from home. Don't desert your principles because of one bad experience.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for four months to a wonderful person who is a he-man in every sense of the word. He played college football and there was nothing assy about him. Now I am finding out that he is very

The cake was made by Vice-Grand Bernice Jacobson, assisted by Dama Bennett. Each of the organization's officers made a tiny doll to represent herself and these were fixed on the cake.

Sholom Aleichem Night Scheduled

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Sholom Aleichem Night — honoring the Jewish Mark Twain — will be held at 8 p.m., Monday in the Jewish Community Center. Rabbi Isaac Bloch will deliver a brief resume of the life of the famous Jewish writer. Readings of Aleichem's prose in Yiddish will be given by Ben Katz and Sam Barak. The event will mark the 100th anniversary of Aleichem's birthday.

AN "OUTSTANDING AMERICAN physician," Dr. Morris Fishbein, center, addressed members of the Palm Springs Rotary Club this week. Greeted here by Club President Dr. William Aiken, right. Dr. Fishbein was introduced to the club as "one of the nation's foremost physicians" by program chairman C. Ronald Ellis, left. The learned medical man reviewed "50 Years of Medicine" for club members, relating in an often whimsical fashion, the progress of science and healing over the past half-century. A prominent author, lecturer and leader in research, Dr. Fishbein, of Chicago, is currently vacationing at El Mirador Hotel. (Desert Sun Photo)

ANTIQUE CAR RALLY ADDED TO LIST OF CIRCUS EVENT

Antique car owners from 11 Western states will converge on Palm Springs on April 4-5 for an Antique Car Rally, added today to the list of events included in the 1959 renewal of the Desert Circus.

The rally—open to any car 25 years of age or older—will include judging and other competition. Included in the events to be staged for the antique car owners are: Parade participation and a tour of the Palm Springs and desert regions. A GAY NINETIES fashion show to be held in conjunction with the Desert Circus Kangaroo Court. A full day of activities at Palm Springs Polo Grounds on April 5 beginning at 9:30 a.m. The activities listed include a blind man's race, a cranking race, coasting to a line race, a "two wires off" race, backing-up races, a relay race and an additional relay race for one and two cylinder cars.

"I AM CONFIDENT," said Bill Maidhof, chairman of the AACA rally, "that the Antique Car Rally will become an annual Desert Circus event because of the interest it will stimulate among a new group of participants and spectators."

Affiliated with the Holiday Realty Corporation, exclusive sales agent for Shadow Village, Miss Reed explained how by playing the part of a reluctant, critical buyer, she gave each student the opportunity to "sell" her on some feature of the house and area.

Both Morton and Mrs. Clark expressed the opinion that the widespread and growing interest in the restoration and preservation of the classic and antique autos would "attract many persons who have not previously attended

Four Palm Springs Events Listed by All-Year Club

Four events in Palm Springs during March headline a list of colorful activities throughout the Southern California next month, the All-Year Club announced today.

Realty Students In 'Field Trip' To Palm Desert

PALM DESERT — An innovation in real estate school curriculum, was inaugurated yesterday when some dozen students of Helen Reed's Real Estate College, were conducted on a "field trip" to the Sprout Home development Shadow Village.

The purpose of the trip, according to Miss Reed, was to enable the students to learn first hand, some of the "do's and don'ts" of selling real estate.

"Too often, a new licensee, because of the newness, may fail to consummate his first transaction," said Miss Reed. "I am sure our trip eliminated some of this difficulty."

Air Conditioning Installation Control Asked

C. E. Wickham of Riverside told the Board of Supervisors this week that lots of people in Riverside County are having "trouble with heating and air conditioning equipment and because installation has been by outside contractors who won't come back to service the equipment they have "no one to go back to."

Wickham, owner of a heating and air conditioning firm in Riverside, suggested that the county charge a permit fee for heating and air conditioning and employ a mechanical inspector for the equipment.

He suggested also that contractors be under bond to be held until the guarantee on the equipment has expired or for a period of one year. His suggestions were referred to the building department for consideration and recommendation.

Saund Asks Aid In Blocking Hospital's Close

Congressman D. S. Saund, locked in a battle with the Navy Department over its proposed closure of Corona Naval Hospital, yesterday asked for aid from throughout the 29th Congressional District.

Saund said that the move to close the hospital, which went to the Secretary of Defense for consideration early last month on recommendation of the Secretary of the Navy, must have approval of both the House and Senate Armed Services committees.

"Before the Secretary of the Navy could declare the hospital excess to the Navy," Saund said, "the two committees must give their approval."

He said that he had asked Representative Philip J. Philbin, a Massachusetts Congressman, to allow citizens of the 29th District an opportunity to be heard. "I invite groups and individuals to write their views to me immediately," Saund said.

Two Hundred Attend Becker Dinner Party

Marking the 1959 social season in Palm Springs has been an unusual number of big private parties, and one of the biggest and smartest was that given Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Becker, honoring her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Kenton R. Cravens, who are their houseguests.

This was a black tie affair, with around 200 guests gathering for cocktails at the Beckers' palatial home on Avenida Palos Verdes. The hosts and the honorees welcomed arrivals for over two hours, and guests filled the lounge, which was centered by a refreshment table offering caviar and pumpernickel rounds, sour cream and other appetizers; the bar room, the diningroom, where Santos had arranged a beautiful buffet with smoked turkey, dips and assorted canapés; and overflowed into the poolside area, where an outside bar had been set up. Recorded music played throughout the rooms, and guests admired the bright, new decor in two of the downstairs bedrooms.

After cocktails, the entire party moved on to the Racquet Club, where the Beckers had engaged the diningroom and Mural Room for the evening. The candlelight on the pink tablecloths and long, low floral arrangements, made a pleasant setting for the party, and guests danced to the music of Teddy Noel and his orchestra.

Among the many guests were: Messrs. and Mmes. Co Thornton, Thomas J. Bannon, Ernest Clark, Ray Matson, Edwin Morris, Walter Crutten, C. E. Needham, Earl Buckingham, J. Ross Clark, Ralph Singer, L. L. This week has had 15-minute half hours ... 45 minute hours ... and three days and 10 nights ... Too much going on ... and not enough time to write about ...

and it doesn't look like the weekend is going to be any different ... Ignoring Friday and Monday ... today had a pleasant luncheon at Tennis Club ... hosted by Mrs. John McClure and honoring Mrs. Thomas Fleming ... who is here from LaJolla for a fortnight ... Tonight is the big Press party out at Bermuda Dunes ... and the Tennis Club party by the Lee Douds ... Sunday Brunch time at El Mirador will find the Wally Brunmarks honoring the birthdays of Theodora Fleming and "Dad" French (they always celebrate together) ... and tonight's party at the Billy Malouf home will also celebrate the twin birthdays ...

Cocktail time tomorrow night ... will find Vivian Davies entertaining for her guests the Thomas Handleys ... at her Aquanetta Circle home ... There are a few other things going on too ... but more about that later ...

Major-General and Mrs. Victor Bertrands ... who are a nice addition to Village circles this year ... were among the guests at the Henderson party ... He just returned last week from New York ... where he attended MacArthur's 79th birthday party (along with about 85 other Top Brass) at the Waldorf Astoria ...

New Yorker has just come out with something very similar ... blessing certain stocks ... Shaw-Poind did it first ... and better ...

She reports that Palm Springs flower - and - ribbon decorated hats are showing up on the ski slopes there on sunny days ... Anita did go on the Erle Stanley Gardner jeep caravan that penetrated the hill country in Arizona and back of Amboy ... and brought back some of those fascinating Apache tears (... Legend says that these translucent black stones are the tears of mothers and wives of Apaches who destroyed themselves rather than surrender) ...

Costumes Enliven Party

Members and guests of Palm Springs Business and Professional Women's Club enjoyed an outstanding program Tuesday evening, at the Impala Lodge. The colorful dinner meeting, with many guests in native costumes from other parts of the world, was under the chairmanship of Mary McGraw, with Fern Laurance, Palm Springs B&PW Club's Charter president, in charge of dinner arrangements.

Guest speaker Rabbi Joseph Hurwitz, in keeping with the meeting's theme of "International Relations," showed colored slides of modern Israel, presenting a most interesting commentary with them of his visit to that country at the time the pictures were obtained and of the political situation there at the present time.

Other extremely interesting talks by "Moral Re-Armament" members Miss Alice Tooker, actress and speaker, Mrs. Surya Sena, of Ceylon, and Mrs. Dau Nyein Tha, leading educator of Burma, followed. Mrs. Sena also demonstrated the correct way to drape a "sari".

Charter member Eileen Miguel, secretary of the Agua Caliente Tribal Council, was called on by program chairman Mary McGraw to explain some of the current problems in regard to Palm Springs property. She responded with a short but informative talk on the subject.

Among the guests attending were Miss Dunham, San Francisco, who is treasurer of Peninsula Chapter of B&PW Club; Mrs. Burnice Dolac of Seattle, Washington; Martine Etchepare, Edward M. Mawhinney of Seattle, Joseph Krause of Bel Air, Florida, and Miss Louella Coffin and Keith Pepper.

Members attending included Eudora Whisenand, vice president, who presided, Leona Cray, Grace Weatherford, Jean Bourne, Helen Brower, Mildred Blair, La Vain Belt, Hazel Critchlow, Angela Caldwell, Berenice Jacobson, Elizabeth Kratzer, Eileen Miguel, Mary McGraw, Helen Stary, Dorothy Lynch, and Fern Laurance past president of B&PW and owner of Impala Lodge.

To Preview 'Diary'

"The Diary of Anne Frank," probably the most widely read document in recent years, comes to Palm Springs Playhouse in a beautiful two-act dramatization Monday night, March 22.

This diary of a young girl, written while living in hiding in Amsterdam during the war years of 1942-1944, has been heralded throughout the world. Printed in 26 different languages, and dramatized in 21 different countries, it casts the shadow of shame and disgrace upon intolerance and aggression, but also shines as a beacon of light and hope in man's never ending climb towards peace and happiness.

The play is one of beauty and an affirmation of human dignity, sparkling with Anne's joyous humor and wit, and ends on a note of optimism.

Portraying Anne, in the Palm Springs Playhouse production, will be Jenny Hecht, daughter of Ben Hecht, famed playwright, novelist, and screenwriter. She recently appeared at La Jolla Theatre in "The Children's Hour," and has been seen on "Wagon Train" on TV.

The Playhouse is proud to present Rudolph Anders as "Otto Frank," in the role he so successfully played on tour. Mr. Anders followed Joseph Schildkraut as Anne's father in the original New York production. His screen roles are many, and include "Magnificent Obsession" with Jane Wyman, "Forbidden Interlude" with Rossano Brazzi and June Allyson, and an as yet unreleased film "Frankenstein 1970" with Boris Karloff.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" opens Monday at the Palm Springs Playhouse, and runs for seven nights. Tickets are available at the Playhouse box office, or by calling FA 5-6189.

Normally the Playhouse is dark on Monday night. This week the Jewish Community Center has made arrangements for a special benefit performance of "The Diary of Anne Frank" on that night. Tickets for this benefit performance are being sold at the Community Center, as the whole theater has been bought out by them for the one evening, Monday, March 22.

Little Guys and Dolls Coming Next Weekend

Little Guys and Dolls of Los Angeles are planning their annual Palm Springs weekend the middle of March, and will be at Malley Manor on March 14-15.

Listed as a "Social Club for Short Society," with a height limit of five foot seven for the men, and five foot three for the girls, the group is sponsored by Los Angeles Higher-Ups, and its president is Gladys Sebastian of Pasadena. Dining and dancing at Palm Springs night clubs and restaurants, and poolside brunching, swimming, sunbathing and hiking are on the agenda for the weekend.

National League Umpire Is Visitor

Mr. and Mrs. Jocko Conlan (he is a senior umpire with the National League of baseball) spent a few days here at El Coronado Hotel, prior to leaving for spring training camp in Arizona. Accompanying them were their friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Nordin of Chicago.

Among others at the hotel are Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Earhardt of Marysville, California.

A wool coat, suit or dress will lose its "wear wrinkles" if allowed to rest for 24 hours after each wearing.

New Play Coming to Padua Hills

"Trovador Californiano" will open a run of seven weeks at Padua Hills Theatre beginning March 4 featuring The Mexican Players.

The three act comedy's title translated means troubador of California with the play opening just before California was annexed to the United States.

Dancer Casilda Amador returns to the stage after an absence of one year to play the featured role of a spinster, while the romantic spotlight turns to Celia Garcia, who makes her debut, and to Singer Manuel Gonzales.

Armeda Maldonado, Ausencio Gutierrez, Maria Abundiz, Rogelio Alfaro, Guadalupe Rubio, Manuel Vera, and Maria Elena Garcia, also making her bow, round out the cast.

"Patzcuaro," the current production at Padua Hills Theatre, will close its run February 28. Featuring Miss Abundiz and Alfaro, the play is presented Wednesday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. with matinees each Wednesday and Saturday at 2:30.

Merienda, where The Mexican Players fulfill requests for songs and dances, follows each performance of "Patzcuaro," and will also follow "Trovador Californiano."

Internal Revenue Commissioner Gives Hints on Filing Tax Returns

(This is the third of five dispatches in which the Commissioner of Internal Revenue provides simple guideposts for preparing and filing your income tax returns.)

By DANA LATHAM

Commissioner of Internal Revenue
WASHINGTON (UPI)—You pay on Federal tax on the first $600 of your income. That's an allowance every taxpayer gets automatically. The law also gives each taxpayer a $600 exemption for his wife (or her husband) if they file a joint return or if only one spouse files and the other has no gross income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer. If both file separate individual returns, each ent and hence as a $600 exemption. They are:

1. YOU MUST HAVE furnished more than half of his or her support in the taxable year.
2. The dependent's gross income must have been less than $600 for the year, unless the dependent is your child under 19 or a full-time student. (I will explain this further below.)
3. The dependent must be closely related to you or, if not, must be a member of your household who is living in your home.

4. THE DEPENDENT must be a citizen of the United States. If he is not, he must be a resident of this country, Canada, Mexico, Panama or the Canal Zone.

5. The dependent must not make a joint return with his or her husband or wife.

There are two other — rather special — types of exemptions: for old age and blindness. If you were 65 or older Jan. 1, 1959, you have an extra $600 exemption. If you were blind on or before the last day of 1958 you may take an extra $600 exemption regardless of your age. If you qualify on both counts, you may take both extra exemptions.

IF YOUR WIFE qualifies for either or both of these extra exemptions, you may claim them for her if she is not filing a separate return.

Old age and blindness exemptions are in addition to the automatic $600 allowance every taxpayer has. Hence, a blind person 66 years old would have on his own account $1,800 of exemptions.

The blindness and old age exemptions apply to a wife or husband who died during the previous year. But they are not applicable in any circumstances to a dependent.

MINORS ARE a special case. Contrary to the general rule, your children who are under age 19 or who are full-time students of any age may be claimed as $600 exemptions even though they themselves earned $600 or more. To be a full-time student, the law requires full-time study at a recognized school for at least five months of the year, or attendance in one of several full-time on-the-farm training programs.

But to benefit by either of these exceptions you must have provided more than half the youngster's support.

YOU MAY TAKE a $600 exemption for a child born to you last year who died before the year was out. You may take this deduction even if the child lived only a few seconds or minutes — but not if it was still-born.

Regardless of whether you claim him or her as an exemption, a child who earned $600 or more must file an income tax return of his own. A youngster may claim his own personal exemption on this return without changing the right of the taxpayer who is contributing more than half his support to claim the child as a dependent.

If the child earned less than $600 and taxes were withheld, he is entitled to get that money back. To do so, he must file a return.

RELATED TO THE matter of dependents is the "head of household" category. The law provides special, slightly lower tax rates for single persons who qualify as "heads of household." Usually, this means a person who is unmarried or legally separated who furnished for the entire year more than half the cost of maintaining a household for at least one relative. If that relative is an unmarried child, grandchild or stepchild who shared a home with you, he need not qualify as a dependent.

If the relative is a parent who qualifies as a dependent, the household you maintain for him or her need not be where you live. "Heads of Household" must use Form 1040 to claim the lower rates.

THE RULE OF one-half support is a bit different in the case of persons where support is paid by several individuals.

Consider the mother who is supported by several of her children, none of whom contributed more than half the total. One of them whose share of the bill is 10 per cent or more of the total may be chosen by the others to claim the $600 exemption. The exemption cannot be divided. The other children who contributed more than 10 per cent must file a written statement with their returns that they will not claim the mother as an exemption. They may use Form 2120 to make this declaration.

Another question about dependents is the status of divorced or legally-separated persons. You may not claim an exemption for your spouse if you were divorced or legally separated during the year, regardless of whether you paid for the support of that person.

(Next: Deductions.)

Council Approves Taxi Fare Raise

City Council this week authorized the drawing of an ordinance change for Tanner Motor Livery increasing taxi fares.

The new increase will keep the original flag-drop cost at 50 cents, but increase the per mile rate from 30 to 40 cents.

Polly Isenogle, manager of Tanners, reported in a letter to the council that the raise in cost was necessary because of the increase of the costs of operation.

NORTH PALM SPRINGS

By ORPHA GEIER

A popular North Palm Springs couple, William B. Messer and Ann Diedericks chose Bill's birthday Feb. 23 for their wedding date. They were accompanied for the vows before Judge Eugene Theriault in Palm Springs by F. D. Pendergast and Orpha Geier.

An evening reception was held in the ballroom at the Pleasure Inn. The buffet was centered by a beautiful tiered cake complete with bride and groom, which was baked by Nell Parker. Bill and Ann received many lovely gifts and the good wishes of all their friends. They are now at home on Covey Street.

He is with the California Electric Power Co. Ann has been living here with her aunt, Orpha Geier on Dillon Road. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Jahner reside in Aherdier, S. D.

Approximately 50 members and guests attended the Chamber of Commerce pot luck dinner and meeting last week at the Community Chapel. Bill Rahming, who has been appointed to the executive committee to represent this area in the Desert County move, gave a report on the meeting which was held at the Chi Chi on Feb. 10.

Darrell and Carol Geier and Vivien drove out from Ontario Monday evening to attend the wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. Bill Messer.

A proxy ceremony on Monday, Feb. 16, united in marriage Stan "Pete" Preckwinkle, who is on Formosa with the U. S. Navy and Jackie Chandler who was in Las Vegas for the occasion. Pete is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Azariah Preckwinkle and will be home after Easter, Jackie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chandler is with the telephone company in Palm Springs.

The community was saddened by the sudden death of Fred Osborn Feb. 18 due to a heart attack. Mr. and Mrs. Osborn had recently completed a new home on Indian Avenue.

Russell and Gertrude Ostrander and Janis of Glendale were weekend guests of Gertrude's brother, Howard "Tex" Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Newman, all of Redondo Beach, spent a few days on the desert, enjoying the hot pools. The Martins have property in Fun Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Firewood of Anchorage, Alaska, are spending two months in the desert and are staying at Wagner's Park. The Firewoods have friends here who formerly lived in Anchorage, among them Sid and Ann Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kelpa of Rockford, Ill., have enjoyed a two weeks visit to the desert at the trailer home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Zukas at Tramvue Ranch.

Everette and Lois Shulund of Harve, Mont., are back in Desert Hot Springs for the winter and are staying at the Smoke Tree trailer park. The Shulunds spent last winter in Florida but prefer the desert where they have spent several seasons.

Friends of Kenny and Ruby Gunn, Mrs. Joseph Weiss of Westchester and Mrs. Robert Burt of Sepulveda are out for a week and are staying at McLaughlin Manor. The Weiss' own property here and are frequent visitors.

Mrs. Mollie Longbrake of Canoga Park and Ojai is visiting here at the home of her daughter, Orpha Geier.

THERE'S NO RABBIT in the top hat! To eliminate any partiality on the part of the Palm Springs Debs organization, before depositing the money earned by the girls participating in various local events, the names of the five local financial institutions were placed in the top hat. Lady Luck chose the sequence to be as follows: 1959, Security-First National Bank; 1960, Bank of America; 1961, Santa Fe

Actor Carroll To Be Kiwanis Club Speaker

Actor Leo G. Carroll, television's "Topper," will be guest speaker at Tuesday's luncheon-meeting of the Palm Springs Kiwanis Club.

The meeting is scheduled for 12:15 p.m. at the Chi Chi. Rated by New York critics as "the finest English actor now alive," Carroll has for 20 years served as a featured star of Theatre Guild productions, including the famed Broadway hit "The Late George Apley."

He has starred for several years in the "Topper" television series and just completed a role in Alfred Hitchcock's latest MGM production.
